

RESIGNATION OF THE MINISTRY.

The rumor of a Ministerial crisis, to which we briefly alluded yesterday, proved well-founded. At the meeting of the Legislative Assembly, immediately after the reading of the minutes, Mr. Green, the Minister of Foreign Relations, stated in a few words that the Cabinet had that morning placed their resignations in His Majesty's hands, which he had accepted, with the request however, that they would remain at their respective posts until new appointments shall be made. But the Assembly apparently took the view that no legislative business could be done under the circumstances, and an adjournment until Monday morning was carried.

Whatever may have been the immediate cause of the resignation of the Ministry at this particular time—whether it arose from a conviction that a majority of the Assembly was in obstinate, unreasoning opposition, or whether caused by a disagreement among Ministers themselves—it is in any case an unfortunate event for the country. It gives a shock and a jar to the fabric of government, that is not by any means conducive to the general health of the body politic. This small and weak country needs, of all things else, a strong government, one that will not only be earnest and active in working for the national advancement, but that shall have the elements that lead to permanency. Frequent changes of Ministry are not disagreeable and unsatisfactory merely,—they are detrimental to every interest, material and social, at home and abroad, and ominous of serious results in the not distant future.

Let us, however, hope for the best, and that the new Cabinet, when formed, will be found to contain the elements of ability, strength and cohesiveness.

Pencil Holders. Something New, 15 cents each, for sale by J. W. Robertson & Co.

A very interesting pamphlet, entitled "Postal Services," by A. Marquez, Esq. (press of J. W. Robertson & Co.,) has just been issued. It comprises a summary of the new duties imposed on Post-office administrations from the constitution of the Postal Union; and innovations to be introduced in the Hawaiian department, as adduced from a review of the postal services in the Union, from official sources; the whole being a Report to the Postmaster General. Among the innovations suggested are: The distribution of mail matter in town by distributors or letter carriers; Isolated letter boxes, placed in convenient situations in the most distant parts of the town, furthest from the central office, to receive letters to be mailed off or to be distributed in town; the parcel post; money orders; &c.

The Band will give an extra concert on Queen Victoria's Birth Day Eve, Tuesday, May 23d at the Hawaiian Hotel.

The second lecture on Temperance by Mr. Eli Johnson, was delivered in the Fort Street Church last evening to a very full and attentive audience. Mr. J. described in vivid colors the scenes witnessed by him "by gaslight" in the haunts of intemperance in some of the great cities of the world. He argued for absolute prohibition as the only sure remedy for the evils of drunkenness.

Coincident with the Greek play, another antique work has been produced in Boston. It is called "Pin-afore." The origin of this work is buried in obscurity. It seems to have been at first an adjunct of church choirs. Its leading number is entitled "What, never?" the second movement of which ("Hardly ever") is in antiphonal style. There is a rather grotesque "dead-eye" cation and the work, as a whole will greatly interest modern audiences as a faithful example of the musical customs of early ages. — Musical Herald.

We denounce the awful crime and exhort our brethren in Ireland to use every effort to bring its perpetrators to justice and show their detestation of the fiendish act, which only an arch enemy of our race or some irresponsible idiot could have conceived or executed. JAMES MOONEY. President of the Irish National Land League of America.
